IAES Free Paper Session
Endocrine surgery

Moderators:
G. Akerström, Sweden
R. Bellantone, Italy

IAES Number	ISS Number	Presenting Author	Title
Oral-7	46918-12	Noguchi Shiro, Japan	Papillary microcarcinoma
Oral-8	98561-10	Li Sean , United States	The value of positron emission tomography in the surgical management of recurrent papillary thyroid carcinoma
Oral-9	95083-10	Starke Achim, Germany	Differentiation of insulin secretion patterns in insulinomas
Oral-10	30023-11	Iacobone Maurizio, Italy	The role of unilateral adrenalectomy in ACTH-Independent macronodular adrenal hyperplasia.
Oral-11	38147-10	Stålberg Peter, Sweden	High success rate of parathyroid reoperation may be achieved with improved localisation diagnosis

16:00-17:30

IAES Free Paper Session
Endocrine surgery

Moderators:
S.E. Carty, USA
I.R. Gough, Australia

IAES Number	ISS Number	Presenting Author	Title
Oral-12	24096-10	Uno Nobuaki, Japan	Significance of parathyroid glands located in thymus
Oral-13	90035-11	Sippel Rebecca, United States	Tumor size correlates with malignant potential in hürthle cell neoplasms of the thyroid
Oral-14	25066-10	Tominaga Yoshihiro, Japan	Expression of parafibromin in distant metastatic parathyroid tumors in patients with advanced renal hyperparathyroidism
Oral-15	14556-11	Miller Barbra, United States	Age and gender distribution of surgically treated primary hyperparathyroidism
Oral-16	33429-10	Soon Patsy, Australia	Surgeon performed ultrasound facilitates minimally invasive parathyroidectomy using the focused lateral mini-incision approach
Oral-17	81354-10	Yip Lin, United States	Can light bulb sestamibi scans accurately predict single gland disease in primary hyperparathyroidism?

Tuesday, August 28, 2007 - Palais des congrès de Montréal

08:00-09:30

IAES Free Paper Session
Endocrine surgery

Moderators:
J.L. Pasiëka, Canada
C.Y. Lo, Hong Kong SAR

IAES Number	ISS Number	Presenting Author	Title
Oral-18	57677-10	Fernàndez-Cruz Laureano, Spain	Is laparoscopic approach an adequate procedure in patients with benign-appearing and overt malignant neuroendocrine pancreatic tumors?
Oral-19	22761-11	Young William United States	The clinical conundrum of ACTH-independent autonomous cortisol secretion in patients with bilateral adrenal masses
Oral-20	29950-10	Brauckhoff Michael , Germany	Critical adrenal volume in patients with hereditary pheochromocytoma undergoing subtotal adrenalectomy cannot be exactly predicted during operation
Oral-21	84268-11	Mihai Radu , United Kingdom	Pasiëka's parathyroid symptoms scores correlate with SF-36 scores in patients undergoing parathyroidectomy for primary hyperparathyroidism
Oral-22	31996-10	Musholt Thomas J. , Germany	Follicular histotypes of oxyphilic thyroid carcinomas do not carry mutations of the BRAF hotspot
Oral-23	92132-11	Ippolito Giuseppe , France	Safety of laparoscopic adrenalectomy in patients with large pheochromocytomas: A single institution review

09:30-10:15

IAES Business Meeting

10:20-10:50

26 IAES Historical Lecture
Endocrine abnormalities in art

Introduction:
M.H. Wheeler, UK
Lecturer:
O.H. Clark, USA

11:00-12:00

27 IAES Peter Heimann Lecture
PET technology in endocrine oncology

Introduction:
H. Dralle, Germany
Lecturer:
K. Pacak, USA

12:15-13:45 LS2801

ISS/SIC / IAES Symposium
Small gastric endocrine tumors

Small neuroendocrine gastric tumors: histopathology and prognostic criteria
Endoscopic diagnosis and treatment
Tumor biology and relation to treatment

Moderator:
B. Carnaille, France
Panelists:
R. Chetty, Canada

C. Nash, Canada
Bo Wangberg, Sweden

14:00-15:30

IAES Poster Session
Endocrine surgery

Moderators:
J.-L. Kraimps, France
D.L. Fraker, USA

16:00-17:30	38	IAES Symposium Paraganglioma, extra-adrenal, and malignant pheochromocytoma	Moderator: C.-H. Lee, Taiwan
16:00		Introduction by the moderators	Panelists:
16:03		Sporadic paraganglioma	Q.-Y. Duh, USA
16:25		Hereditary adrenal pheochromocytoma	H. Dralle, Germany
16:47		Management of malignant pheochromocytoma	B. Carnaille, France

IAES Banquet

19:00	Reception and Dinner Montréal Museum of Fine Arts: The Works of Emily Carr
-------	--

Wednesday, August 29, 2007 - Palais des congrès de Montréal

07:30-08:30	41	IAES Educational Session Primary hyperparathyroidism: standard of care today	Moderator: L.W. Delbridge, Australia
		Focused approach to parathyroidectomy Conventional parathyroidectomy	Panelists: R. Udelsman, USA C.-Y. Lo, Hong Kong SAR

08:30-10:00		IAES Free Paper Session Endocrine surgery	Moderators: P.G. Gauger, USA O. Gimm, Sweden
